

NASA/JPL 10th Annual Science Forum for Small Business

Tuesday, August 22, 2006
8:30 am - 11:30 a.m.
Pasadena, CA

The Jet Propulsion Laboratory/California Institute of Technology (JPL/Caltech) will host the 10th Annual Science Forum for Small Business on August 22, 2006 at JPL. JPL's Business Opportunities Office and NASA Headquarters' Office of Small & Disadvantaged Business Utilization will co-sponsor the event.

The Forum allows approximately five to six high-tech small businesses the opportunity to present their capabilities to an audience of key JPL, NASA and prime contractor personnel. The forum also offers the selected small businesses the opportunity to seek new mentor and subcontract relationships. Over one-third of all presenters have received a contract or subcontract as a result of their efforts at the Science Forum.

Small businesses interested in competing for the opportunity to make a technical presentation must submit a two (2) page "Statement of Technical Capabilities" to JPL that include key areas of technical expertise; R&D and/or service capabilities; past performance; and other relevant information. JPL will select high-tech small businesses whose capabilities relate best to future JPL and prime subcontractor requirements. Selected small business presenters will be given a 5-10 minute total time slot for technical presentations. The deadline to submit a Capabilities Statement is Friday, July 14, 2006. Selected companies will be notified no later than Monday, August 7, 2006.

If you would like to attend the conference as an observer, please register no later than Friday, August 4, 2006. Registration is free. Seating is limited.
